Letter 51

Euler to Razumovsky
Berlin, November 10/21 1747

[...] Having reasonably examined, Messrs. Richman's and Lomanossoff's papers, according to Your Excellency's wishes, I have jotted down my thoughts on the accompanying sheet. I am overjoyed that the majority of these papers are excellent and that the “Commentaries of the Imperial Academy” are destined to become more important and interesting than the works of the other Academies. [...]
